

Subject Line: Caroma Gives one-of-a-kind swag bag for celebs

For mere mortals green with envy about the booty inside celebrity swag bags, feel good about what is being given to a number of environmentally conscious celebrities attending this Sunday's Academy Awards. In lieu of a gift, Caroma, a plumbing products company known for their dual flush toilets, is giving celebrities the gift of giving back by donating product on their behalf to two area schools under construction. Caroma has pledged their H2Zero waterless urinals to two charter high schools being built green in South Los Angeles. Caroma, a brand well-known Down Under for helping to conserve Australia's critical water supply, is a world leader in water efficient products including dual flush toilets and waterless urinals which save billions of gallons of water annually.

For more information about Caroma, please visit www.caromausa.com

MEDIA CONTACT: Jacqueline Burton, 212.330.0702/jburton@fwv-us.com